Besides all this, there were ladies poetry albums, illuminated prayer-books, costumes and fashion plates--in short, the chest was a treasure-house of bewildering delights, each of its fair owners, as it was handed down from one generation to the other, having stored away in it what seemed of special value in her eyes. On the death of my beloved mother, this treasure passed into my hands. It was a frequent and never-failing delight to me to turn over its contents,...
